It's on its way and this time around St. John Medical Center's Street Party is going green.

The party that draws 1,000 or more people to the medical center's midtown campus for an evening of great food, wine tasting and the music of the Fabulous Mid Life Crisis Band happens June 13.

In tandem with St. John Health System's "green" efforts, Street Party will feature recycled products in as many areas as possible. The centerpieces will be able to be replanted in a home garden and utensils and dinnerware will be made of biodegradable materials, including plant-based forks and spoons.

Recycling bins will be stationed throughout the area and there will also be displays for green education. Even the Street Party ball caps that are given to party guests will be made from recycled plastic bottles.

Street Party is hosted by St. John Medical Center's Community Liaison Board and co-chaired by board members Kellner and Bailey Siegfried. Other board members include Chairman Bob Farris, Gail Allison, Mitch Adwon, Charles Anderson, Pat Baldwin, Celeste and Dick Bendel, Richard Boone, Mary Ellen Bridwell, Suzanne Bynum, Sister M. Felicidad Chavez, Martha Desmond, Andrea Doyle, Lee Ellsworth, Stephanie Garrett, Sister M. Therese Gottschalk, Patsy Hepner, Cheryl LaFortune, Bill LaFortune, Joe Moran, Patti Orbison, Cheena Pazzo, Leslie Paris, Anne Roberts, Steve Swab and Daniel H. Zeligson.
